Notes: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. The registration date, course starting date, calculation for semester, and etc. should follow the regulations and criteria of official academic calendar announced by each school. If schools do not stipulate registration date, the registration date should be regarded as the deadline for registration payments.</li> <li>2. Students who apply for dropping out or automatic withdrawal, the withdrawal or dropping out time should be counted from the application date. If students are ordered to leave, the leaving time should be counted starting from the delivery date of notification from school. If students still leave in school for applying for response or appeal, the actual leaving date should be counted as the starting date.</li> <li>3. Students who are applying for absence, quitting school, and graduation should complete processes for leaving within the stipulated period of school. If the reasons why processes are delayed are because of students, the actual leaving date should be the basis date for calculation.</li> <li>4. School could not ask students to pay any fee before the starting date stipulated in the academic calendar of said school.</li> <li>5. The credits fees listed do not include the credits fees for master and Ph. D degree thesis credits (6 credits).</li> </ol>
